not visited the Mattapoissett Historical Society Museum lately. New items and new display techniques have added much to the exhibits.

BALCONY INTERIOR (top cover)

A new display of realistic interiors, complete with figures in period costumes, has been set up in the balcony of the main Historical Society Museum. The handsome furniture is made the more interesting in these lifelike groups.

WATER WAGON (bottom cover)

Every town had one. Now most people would ask, "what for?" Mattapoissett's old water wagon is still in fine condition and is the central exhibit in the Wagon Shed Museum. JoAnn Taylor, one of the many young volunteer workers, gives an indication of its size as she stands by its forward wheel.

1821 HAND PUMPER AT MUSEUM

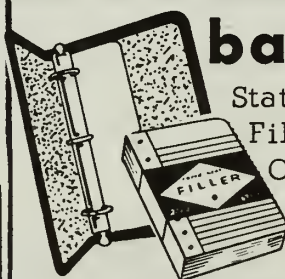

THE EAGLE

The pride of the Mattapoisett Historical Society and an item that would be a prize exhibit in any museum is this pumper dating from 1821. The Eagle hand pumper is still equipped with the old leather buckets and leather hose. Many an exciting story started when the Eagle rolled through the town streets. This engine was used in the Centennial Pageant in a realistic portrayal of its heroic past.

In the spinning room the Society's almost complete collection of colonial spinning equipment is set up; and this fall Mrs. Marion Channing of Marion, author of several books on spinning, is going to create Grandmother's Attic Spinning Room, complete with diagrams explaining the entire process of spinning wool and flax into yarn and thread. Both of these rooms have been authentically decorated with baskets and cannikins, stone jugs and demijohns.

The carpenter's shop now contains a remarkably fine and complete collection of old tools. These have been sorted, shelves have been placed on the walls and the collection is being put in order. Later on, a diagram will explain the kinds and uses of the hundreds of tools.

A great deal of carpenter work has been donated to the Museum by Mr. Theodore Bradley who has finished the interior of the Museum's most valuable new acquisitions is the model of the full-rigged ship formerly in the town library and now displayed in a new glass case.

Assisting in all this, and performing many, many other tasks, have been the junior aides--JoAnn Taylor, Sally Jones, Mark Harris, John Holt, Mark Roberts, John Hinman, Ben Dunn, Jeff Dunn and David Kelley. These helpers have done an immense amount of work all summer long. They have cleaned and painted stoves, kettles, sleighs, wheels and tools. They have put up a dozen new light fixtures, made signs, sorted and arranged tools, brought innumerable articles from storage, and have acted as guides. Two of them, Ben Dunn and Mark Harris, chose their own project, that of scraping and painting the huge street-watering wagon.

Mattapoisett Yacht Club

Three events were scheduled last week at the Mattapoisett Yacht Club, including a Junior doubleheader, an Evening Race, and the usual Saturday Series contest.
AUGUST JUNIOR SERIES

Starting the activities off for the week, the Juniors participated Wednesday morning, August 19th, in two races each for both Corinthians and Beetle Cats. Billy Mee and Phil McCarthy were the winners.

Billy Mee's Irish Eyes crossed the line with D. Peterson's Southern Comfort astern by 15 seconds in the first race. Fred Klein's Iterate was third. The second race was a duplicate of the first, this time with 20 seconds separating the two lead boats.

In the Beetle Cat class, Phil McCarthy took top honors. The competition between second and third place winners was close both times, with John Ross runner-up by 16 seconds over Carol McCarthy's Blue Cloud, and Meredith Barnes by 5 seconds also over Carol McCarthy.

EVENING SERIES RACE

With steady southeast winds to speed them on their way, eight craft sailed in two classes in the last race of the Evening Series, Wednesday, August 19th.

Both Corinthians and Beetle Cats followed the same triangular course, starting in mid-harbor and proceeding to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy to Barstow Rock Red Nun 6 and 30th and $30.00 was given to the bandstand committee. Working very hard for its success were Lisa, Laurie, Duncan and Brendan MacDonald, Jane and Sarah Pallatrone, Valerie Bills, Andrea and Paul Welling and Judy and Susan Ouimet.

The Beetle Cats in their first race followed a course to Barstow Rock Red Nun 6, to Shining Tides MYC guide buoy, to Barnard's Wharf MYC guide buoy, and finish in mid-harbor.

At the start it was Phil McCarthy in Wolf first, Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox second, and Sue McGowan's Hep Cat II third. Before reaching Barstow's Rock Red Nun 6, Sue McGowan and Harvey Pentleton reversed positions. Phil McCarthy, however, continued out front until the start of the third leg when Hep Cat II captured the lead. From then on in a see-saw contest developed between Wolf and Swamp Fox for second place, with Swamp Fox finally crossing the line 22 seconds ahead of Wolf.

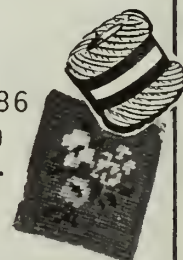

The second race of the Beetle Cat double-header proved to be a closely contested one, with seven boats starting. Their course took them to Barstow Rock Red Nun 6, to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy, to Barnard's Wharf MYC guide buoy, and back to mid-harbor. Harvey Pentleton, leading at the start, fell back astern of Sue McGowan and Phil McCarthy at the first marker. The second leg found Sue still heading the fleet, and Swamp Fox challenging Wolf at several points. The line-up then began to change on the next leg as Meredith Barnes in Gay Lee Ann II moved into third place and Swamp

THE OLD KITCHEN

The early kitchen was large and inviting both as a place to prepare food and as a room to study, relax and enjoy the warmth of the open fire. This re-creation of the colonial kitchen fireplace is in the Matta-poissett Carriage Shed Museum. JoAnn Taylor is shown in the comfortable rocker before the hearth enjoying a pause that many a housewife has taken before beginning another task.

OX EQUIPMENT

With horsepower as a measure, the diesel truck of yesterday was the ox. These ponderous beasts performed really incredible feats of moving heavy objects. For instance, the lightkeeper's house at Ned's Point was moved to a barge by this sturdy animal. The bow was used to team up a pair and a fine collection is on display at the Historical Society Carriage Shed. John Hinman is shown looking over the exhibit.

Rochester Historical Society

Area residents responded enthusiastically to the Rochester Historical Society's "Exhibition of Antiques and Heirlooms" held recently at the North Rochester Congregational Church. The impressive and attractive one day museum reflected the individual and combined efforts of Historical Society members.

On exhibit were many lovely antiques loaned for the occasion by area residents together with the Rochester Historical Society's growing collection of gifts.

Mrs. James Gurney, president of the Society, was chairman of the event assisted by Mrs. Richard Besse. Flower arrangements were under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Walker and Mrs. William Deakin. Mrs. Harry Brown was hostess. Guards for the exhibition were William Deakin and Harry Brown. Mrs. David Enroth was publicity chairman.

A promise for peace

Christ Jesus taught his followers: "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you" (Matt. 5:44).

If everyone would fulfill the promise of his teaching, and express the love and intelligence that Jesus did, we would have peace on earth. If this sounds meaningful to you, visit our public testimony meeting this week. It could help you find your own peace.
